Dear [REDACTED]

Re. Conjoined Public Inquiries into the Dalradian Gold Mine Applications

I refer to above ongoing inquiries.

In its statement of case, and during discussions at the inquiry sessions in January 2025, the Council provided an update in relation to the enforcement history associated with the site. The Council also committed to notifying the Planning Appeals Commission if there were any significant updates in respect of enforcement matters at the site.

The Council now provides the following update.

On 29 August 2025, Fermanagh and Omagh District Council served two enforcement notices under section 138 of the Planning Act (Northern Ireland) 2011, on Dalradian Gold Limited, and various other landowners in respect of breaches of planning control under section 131(1)(b) of the Planning Act (Northern Ireland) 2011, at the land described below.

(1) Lands approx. 165m west of 45 Camcosy Road, Curraghinalt, Gortin (known as the Exploratory site)

(2) Lands 600 metres southwest of no. 45 Camcosy Road, Curraghinalt, Gortin (known as Explosives site)

These notices take effect on 30 September 2025, unless an appeal is made against them beforehand.

It is anticipated that the implications of these notices can be explored as necessary during the ongoing inquiry process.

If the Commission requires any further information at this stage, including any copies of the served notices, the Council would be happy to provide the same.

Yours sincerely

Chief Executive
